Charles Demandler Dead.

Mr. and Mrs. W G. Vassall were called to Sheridan yesterday by the news Charles W. Cook and Neille Town Charles Drummeller, a highly respected citizen and business man of that place, who died at his home Sunday after a long and painful ill seas. Mr. Drummeller was a non-in-law of the late Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, who lived in the hills west of Dallas for many years. He came to Oregon about thirty years ago and lived for a time as a renter on the C. D. Embree pla being a poor man at that time. He atterwards moved to a farm near Sheriden, where by habits of industry and frugality, he amassed a comfortable fortune. At the time of his death, he owned a well-improved 100-acre tarm, besides valuable business and residence property in Sheridan. He was an upright citizen and was respected
